

60001112239.txt

It is reasonable and proper to have a maximum ERP but there should not be a restriction on transmitter power less than the normal 1500 watts as long as EME safety is maintained. This will encourage experimentation with shortened antennas that fit on normal city lots.